THE DELUSIONS OF DRINK

BY DR J G HOLLAND

King Solomon has the credit of being the wisest man that ever lived, and he declared that he who is deceived by wine, the mocker, and strong drink the raging, is not wise—The delusions of drink are as old as drink itself, and are as prevalent now as in Solomon's time There are men who honestly believe that alcoholic drink is good for them yet there is not one of them who would touch it except as a prescribed medicine if it were not for the pleasant taste. The delusion touching its healthfulness grows out of the desire to justify an appetite which may either be natural or acquired If a man likes whiskey or wine, he likes to think that it is good for him, and he will take some pains to prove that it is so both to himself and to others

Now alcohol is a pure stimulant There is not so much nutriment in it as there is in a chip It never added anything to the permanent forces of life, and never can add anything Its momentary intensification of force is a permanent abstraction of force from the drinker's capital stock All artificial excitants bring exhaustion The physicians know this, and the simplest man's reason is quite capable of comprehending it If any man supposes that daily drink, even in small quantities, is conducive to his health, he is deluded If he possesses a sluggish temperament, he may be able to carry his burden without much apparent harm but burden it is and burden it will always be

After a man has continued moderate drinking long enough there comes a change—a demand for more drink. The old quantity does not suffice The powers which have been insensibly undermined, clamor, under the pressure of business, for increased stimulation It is applied and the machine starts off grandly the man feels strong, his form grows portly and he works under constant pressure Now he is in a condition of great danger, but the delusion is upon him that he is in no danger at all At last, however drink begins to take the place of food His appetite grows feeble and fitful He lives on his drink, and, of course, there is but one end to this—viz death It may come suddenly, through the collapse of all his powers, or through paralysis, or it may come slowly through atrophy and emaciation His friends see that he is killing himself but he cannot see it at all He walks in a delusion from his early manhood to his death

A few weeks ago one of our city physicians publicly read a paper on the drinking habits of women It was a thoughtful paper, based on a competent knowledge of facts It ought to have been of great use to those women of the city who are exposed to the dangers it portrayed and especially to those who have acquired the habits it condemned Soon afterward there appeared in the columns of a daily paper a protest from a writer who ought to be a good deal more intelligent than he is, against the doctor's conclusions The health and physique of the beer drinking Englishwoman were placed over against the health and physique of the water drinking American women, to the disadvantage of the latter The man is deluded It is not a year since Sir Henry Thompson one of the most eminent medical men in England,—a man notoriously beyond the reach of any purely Christian considerations—declared against the beer drinking of England on strictly sanitary grounds Our literature declares that the Englishwoman can outwalk her American sister That depends entirely upon the period of life when the task is undertaken The typical Englishwoman who has stood by the beer diet until she is more than forty years old, is too fat to walk anywhere easily out of doors, or gracefully within

During our late civil war this matter of drinking for health's sake was thoroughly tried A stock of experience and observation was acquired that ought to have lasted for a century Again and again, thousands and thousands of times, was it proved that the man who drank nothing was the better man He endured more, he fought better, he became out of the war healthier than the man who drank Nothing is more easily demonstrable than that the liquor used by the two armies, among officers and men alike, was an unmitigated curse to them. It disturbed the brains and vibrated the councils of the officers, and debilitated and demoralized the men Yet all the time the delusion among officers and men was that there were both comfort and help in whiskey

The delusions of drink are numberless, but there is one of them which stands in the way of reform so decidedly that it calls for decided treatment We allude to the notion that it is a nice thing to drink nice liquors or wines at one's home, to offer them to one's friends and to make them minister to good fellowship at every social gathering, while it is a very different thing to drink bad liquor, in bad places, and in large quantities A man full of good wine feels that he has a right to look with contempt upon the Irishman who is full of bad whiskey It is not a long time since the election of a professor in a British university was opposed solely on the ground that he neither drank wine nor offered it to his friends, and when, by a small majority, his election was effected, the other professors decided not to recognize him socially There are thus two men whom these sticklers for wine despise—viz the man who gets drunk on bad liquor, and the the man who drinks no liquor at all Indeed they regard the latter with a hatred or contempt which they do not feel for the poor drunkard. The absolute animosity with which many men in society regard one who is conscientiously opposed to wine drinking, could only spring from a delusion in regard to the real nature of their own habits. The sensitiveness of these people on this subject, however, shows that they suspect the delusion of which they are the victims They claim to be on the side of temperance. They deprecate drunkenness, and really don't see what is to be done about it. They wish that men would be more rational in their enjoyment of the good things of the world, etc., etc, but their eyes seem blinded to the fact that they stand in the way of all reform The horrible drunkenness of the larger cities of Great Britain, with which no hell that America holds can compare for a moment, can never be reformed until the drinking habits of the English clergy and the English gentry are reformed. With eleven-twelfths of the British clergy wine drinkers, and water-drinkers tabooed in society, and social drinking the fashion in all the high life of the realm, the workman will stand by his gin, brutality will reign in its own chosen centers undisturbed, and those centers will increasingly become what, to a frightful extent, they already are—festering sores upon the body social, and stenches in the nostrils of the world.

The habits, neither of Great Britain nor America, will be improved until men of influence in every walk of life are willing to dispense with their drinking customs. Hundreds of thousands of English-speaking men go to a drunkard's grave every year. There is nothing in sanitary considerations as they relate to the moderate drinker, to mitigate this curse. It is all a delusion. The water-drinker is the healthy man, and the happy man. Spirits, wine, beer, alcoholic beverages of all sorts are a burden and a bane, and there is no place where a good man can stand unshadowed by a fatal delusion, except upon the safe ground of total abstinence. Until that ground is taken, and held by good men everywhere, there can be no temperance reform The wine drinkers of England and America have the whiskey drinkers in their keeping What do they propose to do with them?—[Scribner's for March

CASTELAR, AS SEEN BY MISS KATE FIELD —Miss Kate Field met Castelar when he was President of Spain, and gives the following sketch of his appearance;

"He was a man of 36, about five feet six inches tall, inclined to corpulency, squarely built and short necked He had an olive complexion, great, black, sympathetic eyes denoting a near-sightedness that the glasses hanging from his neck proved, a round face shorn of all but a heavy black mustache concealing the mouth too much to please a physiognomist a round good natured chin, a noble, dome shaped head somewhat suggestive of Shakespeare's, benevolent to others, yet ungenerous to itself in the matter of hair—This was Emilio Castelar, he too introverted to remark the ink stain upon his shirt or the general carelessness of his dress Enemies make capital out of this personal negligence It shows how clean Castelar must be inside when opponents are obliged to attack his clothes

What first rises to the surface in Castelar is exceedingly amiability Thoroughly at ease assuming, not anxious to speak of himself, he turned the conversation upon America, expressing great interest in our Government wanting to know about the condition of the South, and regretting that he did not speak English He could read it and was very fond of Emerson, but to talk it was beyond his power Castelar speaks French, but not purely The Cortes had closed its doors three days before so I could not hear him at his best Americans have assured me that Castelar excited them to the highest pitch although speaking a language unknown to them His pantomime and fervor inspired an enthusiasm for they could not tell what' This is indeed oratory 'Ah, I love the tribune—I love speaking!' exclaimed Castelar in the tone of one not quite at home in his new position 'Then you are thrust into power? You accept the Presidency because there is no one else?' 'Precisely'

It seemed to me Castelar uttered the absolute truth It seemed to me he has realized what nature had intended him for—authorship and oratory It seemed to me his highest ambition was to help establish republicanism in his own country, and rather than have the experiment fail take command I recognized the lovable man the author and orator, but I could not see the born statesman His jaw lacked such force as a physiognomist would declare necessary to drag Spain out of mire and bankruptcy A leader should have profound knowledge of men I could not feel Castelar to be in any sense a man of the world

The News says that the people of Brownfield have recently been the sufferers by a clerical impostor. It seems that an advertisement appeared in the Congregationalist in November last, of the willingness of a Rev. Mr Abrams to serve the Lord in a parish not able to pay largely in shekels therefor—Mr. A. was invited to come to Brownfield, and did so, When it was proposed to ordain him, to the surprise of the Council, he not only failed to produce credentials or evidences of any kind proving his connection with any church or religious society, but was unable to answer the simplest theological questions. The Council of course, signified its determination to have nothing to do with him. The man lingered at the parsonage a season, and then with his young "widow housekeeper," from Boston, departed.

JOHN H. LYNDE, PROPRIETOR.

FRIDAY, FEB. 27, 1874.

A GENTLE REMONSTRANCE.

As the Portland Press has deemed it necessary to "Rise to Explain" for our special benefit, we desire to inform our rather exuberant contemporary, in language which we hope to make sufficiently plain, that its apparent attempt to further some ulterior purpose of its own by forcing this journal into a false position, will not meet with flattering success. We are not in the stalking horse business, and if the Press is out after political game we decline having its shot delivered over our shoulders. Because we expressed surprise at the vehemence of our contemporary in denouncing the advancement of Mr. J. H. Manley in a service with which he has been connected for several years, without any word of complaint from that paper, it by no means follows that we are the advocate of that gentleman for any position whatever. And just here, we will "likewise remark," with a distinctness and emphasis which we trust will be duly noted by our Portland neighbor, that while we shall endeavor to freely and clearly express the opinions and preferences that constitute the public sentiment which we aim to represent, whenever occasion may require, we are the advocate of no person for any office, are involved in the political fortunes of no individual, and are neither engaged in nor disposed to engage in political wire-pulling of any kind or description. We hope that the Press is equally untrammeled both at present and for the future.

But to return to our point. In expressing surprise at the excitement of our contemporary we assumed nothing and misconstrued no portion of its remarks. It expressly waived all reference to affairs of the past and based its protest solely on the grounds that the nominee "believes in Gen Butler," and that he regards it the duty of a Federal official to work for those who give him public office. We had no previous knowledge on either of these points, and the Portland Press can best judge what reason we had for surprise that it should urge political activity as an objection to an appointment. But our surprise is increased rather than diminished by the subsequent explanation. In that article, the Press after referring to Mr. Manley's connection with the Paper Credits, a matter which for years has been as familiar to that as to all other papers in the State, declares that for two years past he has given his time to arranging and manipulating caucuses, and that he has boasted of being retained as a railroad lobbyist. We have never had much to do with caucuses or with lobbies, which may account for our ignorance as to Mr. Manley's connection with either; but it does surprise us that the Press should have withheld so long from the public the charges which are now urged with such vehemence. Not that its long silence affects the character of the alleged offences, but the acute observer is inclined to look beyond the surface for the moving cause of such a vigorous outburst. We shall be glad to join hands with the Press in an effort to purify the civil service, but we do not believe it can be done by means of a scape goat, and our neighbor is firing such heavy broadsides at a single case, at long range that we fear it may run short of ammunition when it comes to fighting at close quarters. It would be very disappointing to all friends of reform if this grand cannonade against political chicanery should itself prove but a prelude to new political combinations, and future developments will be watched with some interest by those who dabble in such matters.

As for Mr. Manley, we have never thought much about his position as treasury agent, the Press, which claims a much more intimate knowledge of his proceedings, has never deemed it worth while to utter any complaint and we did not regard his advancement as a matter of particular importance. We had no reason to suppose there was any more objection to his regular promotion than to his present incumbency, concerning which we had heard none from any quarter. We had not the slightest idea of his being politically influential or dangerous, and we had no special purpose to serve in utilizing the Massachusetts excitement for a local sensation. Our principal regret was that the Maine delegation should have become even remotely connected with Butler's political machinations, and we are pleased to see that they have entirely cut adrift from the controversy by securing the withdrawal of the nomination. We desire the Press to understand that the official or political fortunes of Mr. Manley are of no more importance to us than to itself, and if we failed to raise so much pother over his particular case, our lack of excitement may be quite as readily explained as the fact that our Portland neighbor is not now thundering away at some other of the office holding fraternity.

Finally, we are at a loss to find any warrant for the stilted manner assumed by the Press in addressing this journal. Its lofty talk about its duty to the Republican party and its modest intimations of superior virtue remind us forcibly of the latest effort of Gen Butler. Such protestations should not be necessary for its patrons, and if they are addressed to us, they fail to create a profound impression. When that paper complacently preaches to us about those "who stood by the Republican leaders in 1864," we are reminded that this journal was quite as early, has been quite as steadfast, and is quite as earnest a champion of Republican principles, as the Portland Press. How effective that championship has been, is a question which, as a matter of taste, we prefer to leave with the public, without entering any special plea in our own columns. As for independence, our own is qualified only by the desire to represent the intelligent public opinion upon which we rely for support, and while rejoicing at the self-satisfaction of the Press, we hope it will remember that "one swallow does not make a summer" and that modesty is one of the most beautiful attributes of greatness.

Our telegraphic columns give the latest phases of the Boston Collectorship controversy. A majority of the delegation have presented the names of three compromise candidates, which would seem to meet the President's conditions, but up to midnight Thursday, no report of the withdrawal of Simmons had arrived, and the nomination was in the hands of Senator Boutwell as a sub-committee of the Committee on Commerce. "Perley" of the Boston Journal telegraphs that the name of J. H. Manley, as successor to Simmons, was withdrawn by request of the Maine delegation, who were restive under the charge of being concerned in Simmons' nomination, a charge which the correspondent says has not the least foundation.

The Boston School Committee Tuesday evening again had under discussion the question of permitting women to occupy seats. Notwithstanding the decision of the Supreme Court, they voted 44 to 40 not to reconsider their former action. An opinion is now asked of the City Solicitor as to whether there is anything in the city charter to prevent women from serving on the school board.

The Boston Advertiser says: "Mr. Adams of Quincy speaks for himself only. There has been no strong public sentiment on the question of a world's fair on the centenary of our National existence yet developed in Massachusetts, but so far as there is any feeling at all it is decidedly favorable."

A Washington special says that the financial discussion in the Senate is apparently as far from an end as when it first began. The debate begins to abound with personal passages, and personal rivalries and jealousy are apparently controlling the action of some Senators. It becomes daily more certain that no financial measure will be enacted into law for many months to come.

The N. Y. Evening Post, referring to a pamphlet recently issued by one of the large flour manufactories of Brooklyn, notices "an extract from a paper read before the American Board of Health by Dr. A. C. Hamlin, of Bangor, in November, 1873, in which the Doctor enters upon a full discussion of the relative value of the staple products of the soil as articles of food, endeavoring to show the superiority of wheat over all others, when it is so manufactured as to preserve all of its life giving elements. The pamphlet is full of instruction and useful information to housekeepers concerning the proper modes of preparing wheat products for the table."

The opponents of the "Railroad Connection Bill" have resorted to considerable sharp practice to secure its defeat. An attempt was made to shut out the minority report by smuggling the papers into the Senate, where the presiding officer ruled that the vote of acceptance adopted the report. On Wednesday the House refused the bill a passage, and when it came to the Senate Thursday a lively debate ensued, resulting in suspending the rules to receive the bill, which was assigned to next Tuesday. The strong vote on this point in the Senate and the known feeling of influential members indicate that the attempt to smother the bill has not yet finally succeeded. The vote in the House, Wednesday, on giving the bill a passage, was as follows:

YEAS—Messrs Abbott, Bailey, Bradbury of Oldtown, Bradbury of Kingfield, Brawn, Carvill, Cobb, Connor, Cornish, Cortbell, Creswell, Crowell, Cushman, Davis, Dowst, Edes, Files, Fletcher, Foster, Fowler, Gibbs, Gove, Grant, Hawkes, Houghton, Hunter, Judd, Keene of Palmyra, Lamson, Lawler, Longfellow, Loring, McGilvery, Meserve, Milliken, Mitchell, Morse, Morrow, Nickerson, Pearce, Pillsbury, Porter, Pressey, Pullen, Reed, Small of Lisbon, Smith, Stone, Sturgis, Swasey, Talbot, Treat, Vittum, Walden, Warren, Whitemore, Woodbury, Woodman—58.

THE DEATH PENALTY. We give the vote of the House on the bill providing for the abolition of the death penalty, which occasioned a lively debate. The question was on giving the bill a passage in concurrence with the Senate. Mr Talbot of East Machias, spoke at length against the bill, and also Mr. Knowlton of Skowhegan, while Mr Wilson of Bangor, spoke in favor. The yeas and nays were ordered and on being taken, resulted as follows:

Yeas—Messrs Aldrich, Bartlett, Brown, Bryant, Bursley, Carvill, Cobb, Connor, Corthell, Crockett, Croswell, Crowell, Dennison, Dourt, Drake, Eaton, Estes, Farrington, Fletcher, Foster, Fowler, Gibbs, Grant, Gupill, Hamilton, Hawkes, Hawes, Houghton, Hutchins, Judd, Keegan, Keene of Palmyra, Lewis, McCarty, Mitchell, Morrow, Mullin, Oullette, Pierce, Porter, Pressey, Pullen, Richards, Rogers, Rowell, Sanborn of Etna, Scribner, Small of Lisbon, Small of Temple, Sturgis, Swasey, Thurston, Vittum, Walden, Williams, Wilson, Woodman and Work—57.

Nays—Messrs Babbidge, Bailey, Baker, Blodgett, Bowker, Bradbury of Oldtown, Bradbury of Kingfield, Burbank, Caldwell, Campbell, Carll, Clark, Coffin, Cornish, Cushman, Davis, Edes, Fessenden, Frothingham, Gile, Goodwin, Gove, Hall, Harding, Haskell, Hatch, Hathorn, Hunter, Johnson, Keene of Brewer, Keith, Kelloch, Kimball, Knowlton, Lamson, Lane, Lawler, Leavitt, Longfellow, Lord, Macartney, McGilvery, McKinney, Meserve, Moore, Morse, Moulton of Porter, Moulton of Scarboro, Nickerson, North, Parker, Phinney, Pillsbury, Reed, Robbins, Sanborn of Wales, Scammon, Sherman, Silsby, Smith, Snow, Stone, Tabbutt, Talbot, Warren, Wasson, Wentworth of Bucksport, Wentworth of Kittery, Whittemore, Wilder, Woodbury, Yates and Young—73.

Absent or not voting—Messrs Abbott, Barker, Black, Blaisdell, Boardman, Fernald, Files, Frost, Hurd, Libby, Loring, Milliken, Pinkham, Powers, Stuart, Thomas (the Speaker) Tibbetts, Treat, Welt and Winslow.

So the bill was refused a passage. Subsequently a motion was made by Mr Cornish of Lewiston, to reconsider this vote which was lost.

A medusa polyp has lately created some interest in the Garden of Acclimation at Paris. After he was placed in a pool it was observed that he depopulated the water, all his neighbors dying speedily. Examination showed him to be the very rare vinegar polyp, the body of which, in pure water, gives a strong acetic solution. This polyp first produces alcohol, which it transforms into vinegar, and in the State of Massachusetts it would be liable to a fine of $20 and 20 days' imprisonment. In Paris they have given the noble creature a jar of clarified vinegar all to himself.

Reports from Mexico give an account of a quarrel between two towns in the State of Vera Cruz, which resulted in a fight, in which seventeen persons were killed. An indiscriminate massacre followed, and women and children were victims of the most revolting atrocities. The despatch from the City of Mexico states that after a bloody quarrel between the townsmen of Quimixtlan and Huascalca, the infuriated Huascalcans went to Quimixtlan and began an indiscriminate massacre, killing children and cutting off the breasts of women. The neighboring town of Chalchicomula sent a detachment of militia to the scene to put a stop to the atrocities.—The police arrested 47 bandits, implicated in the kidnapping of Senor Salvatierra. The large ransom demanded for the prisoner was not forthcoming, and the unfortunate man was murdered by the chief of the gang.

AROOSTOOK COUNTY S. J. COURT.

FEBRUARY TERM—JUDGE PETERS PRESIDING.

Tuesday, Feb. 24th. The Court organized, with one traverse jury, Lewis Delaite, foreman. J. D. Pulsifer, Esq., Stenographer.

Wednesday, Feb. 25th. Firmin Daigle vs. Thomas Dejarder; money paid to Navani Ouilett, at Oldtown, in August, 1866, for defendant.

Defence—"May be." I told him if he would pay Ouilett $30 and bring me back Ouilett's receipt that I would pay him. May be he paid the $30, but he did not bring back the receipt signed by Ouilett.

Reply—True, it was not signed by Ouilett; he could not write; but a third person signed Ouilett's name, and the receipt, I showed and explained to deft. Ouilett has never called on deft. for the $30, and now more than six years have gone by.

Court—If deft. authorized plf. to pay the $30 and he did, pay it in pursuance of that authority, he is entitled to recover that sum with interest from date of writ Nov. 3, 1870.

Verdict for plaintiff, $35.92.

E. Madigan. Trafton.

The case of Powers vs. Carey, for libel, is in order for Thursday. A. G. Jewett of Belfast appears for plf., and Joseph Baker of Augusta for deft.

CRIMINAL.

The Grand Jury came in, reported and were discharged finally. They returned an indictment against Florence McCarty for assault and battery on John Honagin. They refused to return a bill against Michael Kelley for murder of William Martin, and also Carl J. Ek for resisting an officer.

This is the first term of the new County Attorney, Wm. M. Robinson, Esq.

CUT THIS OUT.

IT MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE.

There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Disease, Coughs, Colds or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 75 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wondrous cures astonishes every one that try it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist, W. E. Mann, and get a sample bottle for 10 cents, or a regular size for 75 cents.

LATER—THE MATTER CLEARED UP—NO POISONING.

The parties arrested on suspicion of having poisoned Josephine Reynolds were discharged, a post-mortem examination having developed the fact that she died from inflammation of the bowels.

FROM AUGUSTA.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE STATE PRISON INVESTIGATION.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 26.

The Committee on the State Prison investigation continued business this afternoon, examining several witnesses. The Committee unanimously agreed to the following report:—

The Committee having proceeded thus far in the investigation of the affairs of the State Prison, agree that so far as any irregularities exist in the treatment of prisoners, or the mode of punishment, or in the management at the time of the fire, they are not of such a nature as to implicate the Warden, or to cast any suspicion upon him as to the want of efficiency, neglect of official duty, or unkind, or harsh treatment, but that the Inspectors have for several years failed to conform fully to the requirements of the law in regard to furnishing to the officers of the Prison rules and regulations for their government. The Committee therefore decide that no further examination, so far as the Warden is concerned in relation to the treatment of prisoners, be had, and that the further examination of witnesses be had in relation to the financial concerns of the Prison.

The appraisers, having completed their labors at the Prison, arrived here this afternoon.

EVENING SESSION.

The Committee continued their hearing this evening. Hon. Rufus Prince, Prison Inspector, testified in regard to the method of taking the annual account of stock and of estimating the amount of stock destroyed in the late fire at the institution. The hearing will be continued at 2 P. M. to morrow.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

FORTY-THIRD CONGRESS

First Session.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.

The bill increasing the number of Paymasters to fifty was taken up.

After a debate of an hour the Senate, by 28 nays to 23 yeas, refused to take up the Centennial bill, and the Naval appropriation bill was taken up.

The financial question has been postponed until next Tuesday on account of the sickness of several Senators.

The amendments of the committee were concurred in and the bill passed. The bill now goes back to the House for concurrence in the Senate amendment.

Mr. Sumner said that several Senators interested in the bill had left the Chamber, supposing that the Naval bill would occupy all the day. At his suggestion it was accepted and the bill was taken up but laid over until after the morning hour to-morrow.

The bill to provide for the appointment of a commission in regard to alcoholic liquor traffic was taken up, the question being on the amendment of Mr. Morrill of Me., appropriating $10,000 expenses of the commission.

Mr. Bayard opposed its passage.

Mr. Flanagan favored the bill and spoke of the evil effects of intoxicating liquor.

Pending the discussion Mr. Thurman moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business.

Mr. West, from the Committee on appropriations, reported the army appropriation bill, which was ordered to lie on the table and be printed.

Mr. Thurman's motion was adopted and the Senate went into executive session and afterwards adjourned.

HOUSE.

A bill was passed allowing the unexpended balance of the appropriation for the construction of a branch mint at San Francisco to be made available to continue the work, after a debate during which Mr. Garfield of Ohio said he didn't believe Congress would adjourn before next July.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill revising the franking privilege, and speeches in its favor were made by Messrs. Danford, Hereford, Dunnell, Conger, Burchard, O'Brien, Randall and Biery.

Mr. E. H. Roberts of N. Y. moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived—yeas 118, nays 140.

Mr. Poland of Vt. moved to reconsider the vote of yesterday by which the main question was ordered.

Mr. Randall of Pa. moved to lay that motion on the table. Agreed to—yeas 120, nays 51.

A vote was taken on an amendment reported by the committee authorizing the Postmaster General to delay the transmission of documents whenever the welfare of the service shall require, and it was rejected by an overwhelming majority.

A vote was then taken on the substitute offered by Mr. Hale of N. Y. to repeal the law which abolished the franking privilege. The amendment was rejected—yeas 50, nays 109.

A vote was taken on the passage of the bill, but was rejected—yeas 129, nays 131.

Of the Maine delegation Mr. Hersey voted aye, and Messrs. Burleigh, Frye and Hale nay.

At the close of the roll call, the vote being very close, there was a good deal of excitement among members, those in favor of the bill going around discussing the question and canvassing for changes. The first change was by Mr Todd of Pa., from "no" to "yes." It was followed by a change on the part of Burrows of Mich., Burleigh of Maine, Clark of Mo. and Hubbell of Mich., from aye to no.

Messrs. Butler of Mass. and Cessna of Pa., having voted with the prevailing side, moved to reconsider the vote rejecting the bill and afterwards withdrew the motion. It can be made, however, to-morrow.

Mr. G. F. Hoar asked leave to offer a resolution directing the Committee on the District of Columbia to report forthwith a bill to compel the payment of the school teachers of the District.

Mr. Hale of N. Y. objected, unless the resolution be referred to the committee.

Mr. Hoar remarked that his object was to remove the scandal of having the school teachers of the Capital unpaid, as they had been, for nearly twelve months, and he gave notice that he would move to suspend the rules on next Monday for that purpose.

The House then took a recess.

EVENING SESSION.

Some further progress was made on the bill to revise and codify the statutes. The Chair was occupied by G. F. Hoar. The management of the bill was in the hands of Mr. Poland. The actors on the scene composed some fifteen members, while an attentive auditory consisted of colored men in the gallery, who never seem to be weary of the dullest performance.

THE TEMPERANCE CRUSADE.

EXCITEMENT IN PIQUA.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 26. A special from Piqua, Ohio, says that the praying women, on entering the saloon of the City Hotel last night, found the barkeeper disrobing, and they left. A man standing by told the fact on the street, and a crowd gathered in front of the hotel and gave Stillwell an hour to leave. The saloon keepers came to his defence, and the crowd on the street grew larger. After considerable exciting discussion the crowd dispersed without resorting to violence.

CADY STANTON OPPOSES THE PRAYING BANDS.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26. At a meeting of the Radical Club yesterday, Elizabeth Cady Stanton made an address in which she opposed praying bands against intemperance, saying that it is not more dignified than mobs and urged women to obtain the ballot, when the abuse of liquor could be materially decreased.

The Catholic Total Abstinence Society held a mass meeting at the Academy of Music last night, at which much enthusiasm was manifested.

MOVEMENT IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. All the fashionable saloons on the south side of the city have received notices advising them of pending visits from the women's praying band.

VISIT TO A NEW YORK CITY DEN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. Last evening sixteen young ladies entered the notorious establishment of Harry Hill on East Houston street, and requested the use of the barroom and dance hall for the purpose of holding a temperance prayer meeting there next Sunday, offering to pay for the same one hundred dollars.

A HOUSTON ST. PHILANTHROPIST.

Mr. Hill, after announcing that the ladies could have his place free, has issued a card saying that he will place at the disposal of the advocates of the temperance movement his place of business for any Sunday. He hopes that the ladies will come, and by "their bright presence, prayers and influence lift men from a miserable, debasing degradation to the fullness of perfected and exalted manhood."

MICHIGAN.

PROBABLE SAFETY OF THE ICE-FLOE VOYAGERS.

DETROIT, Feb. 25. No definite information has been received in regard to the ice-floe at Bay City, but the general opinion is all have escaped. If any remain the north wind which prevailed yesterday has probably driven them to their former position, thus enabling them to land. There can therefore be no doubt of the safety of the men who have not escaped to the west shore.

THE BOSTON COLLECTORSHIP.

ANOTHER DELEGATION.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. A Washington despatch says that the delegation from the Boston Commercial Club waited on the President yesterday to urge the withdrawal of the nomination of Simmons. The majority of the Massachusetts members of the House favor a compromise.

BOUTWELL IN THE GAP.

The Herald's Washington despatch states that the nomination of Simmons for Collector of Boston was not considered in Executive Session yesterday and the whole matter now rests with Senator Boutwell.

COMPROMISE REFUSED—SIMMONS ADHERED TO.

A Washington special to the Post says that seven members of the Massachusetts Delegation to day recommended to the President the appointment of either Frederick W. Lincoln, Mr. Fiske, or Mr. Burt as Collector of Boston, instead of Simmons. The President declined to withdraw Simmons. Mr. Boutwell has to-day finally decided to stand by the nomination of Simmons and will probably report it favorably to the Senate in Executive Session this afternoon. Mr. Logan is reported to have said that the army element in the Senate would favor Simmons' nomination because he is reported to be a soldier.

THE COMMITTEE.

The Senate Committee on Commerce to-day referred the nomination of Simmons as Collector for Boston to Mr. Boutwell as a sub committee.

MASSACHUSETTS.

FIRE IN WALTHAM.

BOSTON, Feb. 26. A fire in Waltham this morning destroyed the Iron, Brass and Copper Foundry of R. G. Brown & Co. and machine shop of Field Bros., both in the same building; also a dwelling house. Loss $10,000 to $20,000, partly insured.

NEW YORK CITY.

THE SNOW STORM.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. Weather clear and cold—wind northwest. About a foot of snow fell yesterday and last night. The streets are being cleared of snow by numerous gangs of workmen.

FREE SOUP.

Soup kitchens are now in full operation, and yesterday over 10,000 persons were furnished with good beef soup.

JEALOUSY AND THE PISTOL.

John Doyle, who shot Miss Lawler yesterday, was a brave officer, and about a month ago rescued three children from a burning dwelling at the risk of his own life. He was madly infatuated and jealous of Miss Lawler.

NEW YORK STATE.

THE STRIKE ENDED.

HORNELLSVILLE, Feb. 26. The strike of the brakemen on the Erie Railway has ended satisfactory to all parties, and all passenger and freight trains are running regularly.

FIENDISH ATTEMPT TO BURN A SCHOOL HOUSE AND THE SCHOLARS.

ROCHESTER, Feb. 26. This morning a fire was started by an unknown man under the second story stairs in the public school house No. 12. The flames were discovered in time for their suppression before any damage was done and before there was any panic. Three hundred children in the upper rooms would have been cut off from escape except by the windows if the flames had progressed far. Number 5 public schoolhouse was set on fire Tuesday, but was not damaged.

WALLER-WAITE AGAIN!

AN ALLEGED CONFESSION!

VINDICATING MRS. WAITE!

WHERE IS THE WRITER!

A QUEER DOCUMENT!

THE COMMUNICATION IN FULL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. The New York Express says:

We have received the following important confession bearing the signature of Catharine Waller, owning up as to what she has done and neither denying the statement as to her children nor as to John Waller:—

THE CONFESSION.

To the Editor of the New York Express:—

I, Catherine Waller, alias Kate Wallace alias Carrie Waller, alias Catherine McKenzie, do here state that I am John Waller's wife; that I married him on the 29th day of May 1862; that Carrie A. Walter was born Feb. 24, 1863; that John G. J. Waller was born Sept. 2d, 1864; that I was born October 31, 1847; that John Walter is 50 years old this March coming; that I left him four years ago last November; that I was obliged to leave him because he abused me.

I ask him to go and see if he can find on Mrs. Waite's left arm the scar where he cut me with an axe—it is about an inch and a half long—and also see if he can find a scar on her left temple where he struck me with a block of wood; and also go and see if her eyebrows meet on her forehead as he always said mine did.

I have done a great wrong to this woman, but I have tried to undo what I have done and have written many times to all these people; but it has done no good. I am sick and have no hopes of ever getting well. I have consumption and my heart is broke and it is my father's advice to send this to you. It is useless for me to go and give myself up now as I am not to live long, so I will state the truth.

Mrs. Holden told a black lie when she said I talked to her about my marriage when I was in Picton. She said that to try and condemn Mrs. Waite. They told so many lies. What makes me feel so bad, is about the children; they make them swear to lies, but I will have them before long in my own keeping if I have to steal them.

I have two sisters and five brothers, and a father and mother, and have never denied them. I have known Mrs. Waite for nearly three years and she is a young, unsuspecting woman. I don't know where she was born, but knew she was an English girl by her tongue, and I have heard her say she had no parents and I am sorry for what I have done to get her into this trouble.

My friends wanted me to send this to you so that we would have the truth known, for John Waller and his tribe are so bad that they will never tell the truth, so please do what you can and do not be afraid. Tell this as you think best, but do your best to save me. I had an accomplice, and got the medicine and gave the pictures to her, and got her to get them copied. The sins of Carrie M. Kent I will not bear, but all the others I will; so you know enough now. I will send you some money soon, so I have no more to say now.

Mrs. Waite was never John Waller's wife. I have played the role that the Government said she did, all but taking the name of Carrie M. Kent and marrying E. F. Waite. So no more. Yours in sorrow,

CATHERINE WALLER.

SPICY DESPATCHES—SOMEBODY MISTAKEN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. The following telegraphic correspondence has taken place:

Office of Indian Affairs,
Washington, Feb 17.

To J. J. Saville, U. S. Indian Agent, Red Cloud Agency—

General John Smith reports that you make such excessive issues of beef that large quantities are left to rot, the Indians taking only the hides which they trade for ammunition. Is this true? Telegraph.

(Signed) EDWARD P. SMITH,

THE REPLY.

Red Cloud Agency, Feb. 25.

The Hon. E. P. Smith, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington:

The Statement of Gen. John Smith, given in your telegram of the 17th inst., in relation to the excessive issue of beef, etc., is false in every particular. All is quiet at the Agency.

NAVAL.

TORPEDO PRACTICE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. Despatches from Florida Bay state that the Naval fleet practiced at torpedo exploding yesterday. This was done by anchoring a raft a mile ahead of the fleet to which they sailed and exploding torpedoes under it as they passed. Fourteen out of seventeen torpedoes were successfully exploded.

THE SPECTACLE

was grand, in many instances the water being thrown in solid column twice the height of the main-mast. The shocks on board ship were heavy. All were fired by electricity. Commodore Parker states that the experiments have demonstrated the impropriety of applying torpedoes to large war vessels incapable of great speed.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

EXCITEMENT OVER THE NEWS FROM AFRICA.

LONDON, Feb. 26. The Standard thinks that the fact that the 24 of February had been fixed upon for an attack upon Coomassie, indicates that the condition of the British troops is not hopeless, but at the same time sees that under the circumstances audacity gives only a chance, not merely for victory, but for saving the army.

The Daily Telegraph's special despatches say that the Highlanders suffered a heavy loss in ambush. The ground was hilly and the bush dense. General Wolseley was within 15 miles of Coomassie.

All the London journals show in their editorials on the Ashantee news the utmost anxiety as to the result. The Times and Telegraph attribute the failure of the peace negotiations to the uncompromising determination of the British commander to enter Coomassie, an event which the King was willing to do anything to prevent.

LATER—DESPATCH FROM WOLSELEY—THE ARMY SAFE AND VICTORIOUS.

The following despatch from Gen. Wolseley occasions great relief:

"Coomassie, Feb. 26. We reached here yesterday after five days hard fighting. The troops behaved admirably. Our casualties are under 300. The King has left the town, but is close by. He promises to visit me to-day and sign a treaty of peace. We hope to start on our return to the coast to-morrow. The wounded are recovering, and the health of the remainder of the army is good."

TEMPESTUOUS WEATHER.

The weather is very tempestuous to day in Great Britain and on the coast. Communication by telegraph between London and various places is interfered with, and much damage has been done to the shipping.

THE 'VARSITY RACE.

Betting on the race between the Oxford and Cambridge crews has commenced, being two to one in favor of Cambridge.

CUBA.

THE RECENT BATTLE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. An Havana letter states that it is currently reported there that in a recent battle near Puerto Principe there were engaged 3,000 Spanish troops against 5,000 Cubans. Over 300 Spanish troops were killed and wounded, including Brigadier General Bascomes, the Spanish commander. There was no evidence that any Cubans were captured, or that they were more than repulsed. The Spaniards, however, claim that the Cubans were very heavy losers of men.

CANADA.

CHANGE OF JUDGES.

MONTREAL, Feb. 26. Chief Justice Duval and Judge Badgerly have sent in their resignations, and Judge Monk has received a year's leave of absence. This settles the difficulty between the Bench and the Bar. A. A. Darien, it is said, will be Chief Justice, and Attorney General E. Irvine, and McDoutie, Q. C., will be appointed Judges. It is understood that Judge Sicotte of St. Hyacinthe will be placed on the Queen's Bench.

DOMINION BOARD OF TRADE.

OTTAWA, Feb. 26. In the Dominion Board of Trade yesterday, Mr. McLaren, in behalf of the American delegates, said that reciprocal relations are necessary for both countries. Several resolutions were adopted pertaining to Canadian matters. Quite a debate occurred on the tariff question, but without coming to a vote.

BY

DR. FITZGERALD.

Who is Now Introducing This Most Invaluable Medicine called Life Invigorator.

THIS INVIGORATOR is compounded from the purest and best vegetable nervines, and while its mission is to thoroughly eradicate all obnoxious obstructions of disease in the vital channels, it at the same time gives cheerfulness to the mind, restores memory, gives elasticity to the step and in reality makes the sufferer Happy, Courageous, Sound. I do not claim as do most vendors of the so-called patent medicines that this is a certain cure for all diseases, for I do not believe that any one medicine can be compounded so as to do this; but I do claim to have discovered a secret of renewing health, cheerfulness and strength never before made known. This "Life Invigorator" reaches the channel of the following diseases: Dyspepsia, Epileptic Fits, Scrofula, Catarrh, Cancer, Humors of all kinds, Consumption, Seminal Weakness, Female weakness, Diseases of the Liver, Biliousness, or Jaundice, Exhausted vitality, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Debility, Dropsy, Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Blood, Heart, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys and Spine.

Worth Everybody's Notice.

Between the years 1862 and 1872, the State of Kansas increased her population half a million souls and the value of her taxable property over a hundred million dollars. The tide of emigration has set in that direction the present year stronger than ever. The lands in the valley of the Arkansas River are just opened to settlement by the construction of the ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE RAILROAD.

HERE IS THE FINEST SOIL AND THE BEST CLIMATE in the West. Towns are springing up all along the line among them is KINSLEY, the location of the Mass. Colony. There is plenty of Government Land for Homesteads in every part of the valley. LYRIC OF ACTION.

BY PAUL H. HAYNE.

'Tis the part of a coward to brood
O'er the past that is withered and dead
What, though the heart's roses are ashes and dust?
What though the heart's music be fled?
Still shine the grand heavens o'erhead,
Whence the voice of an angel thrills clear on the soul
"Gird about thee thine armor, press on to the goal!"

If the faults or the crimes of thy youth
Are a burden too heavy to bear,
What hope can rebloom on the desolate waste
Of a jealous and craven despair?
Down, down with the fetters of fear!
In the strength of thy valor and manhood arise,
With the faith that illness and the will that defies

"Too late!" through God's infinite world,
From His throne to life's nethermost fires—
"Too late!" is a phantom that flies at the dawn
Of the soul that repents and aspires,
If pure thou hast made thy desires,
There's no height the strong wings of immortals may gain
Which in striving to reach thou shalt strive for in vain

Then up to the contest with fate,
Unbound by the past, which is dead!
What though the heart's roses are ashes and dust?
What though the heart's music be fled?
Still shines the fair heaven o'erhead,
And sublime as the angel who rules in the sun
Beams the promise of peace when the conflict is won!

Prospectus for 1874,

Seventh Year.

The Aldine,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores

THE ALDINE while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition In price or character The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost, and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thomas Moran and J D Woodward

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West" One is a view in the White Mountains, New Hampshire, the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates and are in size (12x16) and appearance exact facsimiles of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself

NEWARK, N J, Sept 20th, 1873.

MESSRS JAMES SUTTON & CO.

Gentlemen,—I am delighted with the proofs in color of your chromos They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings

Very respectfully
(Signed) THOS MORAN

These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. It no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free

For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtained only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the facsimile signature of JAMES SUTTON & CO

PROVIDENCE, R I, July 1, 1873.

Dr F W Kinsman, Augusta, Maine

Two years ago last September I took a severe cold, with sore throat for some days, the cold finally settled with a cough, dry and very painful I used various kinds of syrup recommended by friends who noticed my condition, but with no relief My physician prescribed Whiskey, and then Cod Liver Oil, I took three quarts of the oil, and not being relieved I commenced taking Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, of which I took several bottles, Miller's Expectorant four bottles, and some four or five other remedies continually growing weaker, losing my appetite and about giving up all hope of any relief In fact, I was marked by my family, and about every person that I met, as sure to die

But to it a change took place One day last winter a circular was thrown in my office, which advertised Adamson's Botanic Balsam, (thank God) I read that circular very carefully put on my coat and went for it. I at last found it and began taking it regularly, and as per directions. Before I had used half a bottle I noticed a change. I then purchased six bottles, and meaning business, went through four of them, continually growing better, resting all night, cough entirely gone, and to-day I can do as much business in one hour as I could in one day eight months ago. I am also gaining in flesh and generally speaking, feel good all over. This all comes by use of Adamson's Balsam

I invariably recommend it to everybody similarly afflicted, and can this day give you the name and residence of at least fifty persons who have been cured of coughs and colds by its use. I also urged a friend of mine who is in business near me, to add this article to his stock, he did so and sold ninety bottles in less than a fortnight, and I have not heard of any one yet dissatisfied

I would as soon think of having property uninsured against loss by fire as to keep house without a good supply of Adamson's Balsam in my closet.

With assurance of my highest regard, I am gratefully yours, &c.

Dear Sir —We are happy to be able to inform you that out of over 2000 bottles of your Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam, which we have sold over our counter during the last past three months we have not heard of one solitary case of complaint against its unrivalled good results, but all who have had occasion to speak of it at all, have spoken of its merits in the highest terms of satisfaction.

Respectfully yours,

We have known Dr F. W. Kinsman, of Augusta, Me, for the past twenty years, as a successful druggist, have examined the formula of his Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. There is no disease with which our country is afflicted, which sweeps off annually so many victims as that fell destroyer of the human race,

CONSUMPTION.

It is estimated that nearly 175 000 die annually with this terrible disease. Consumption in its confirmed and incipient stages, Coughs, Asthma, and affections of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, Croup, &c, form by far the most fatal class of disease known in our land.

Yet even these may be effectually cured by means of the simple, yet wonderful remedy that nature has furnished.

We have carefully combined the medical properties of these natural healing extracts of
